EDUCATION

Ph.D., Computer Science, with a certificate in Cognitive Science (2004)

Georgia Institute of Technology

Dissertation Title: Visual Analogical Problem Solving

Advisors: Profs. Ashok K. Goel and Nancy J. Nersessian

Committee: Profs. Ronald W. Ferguson, Richard Catrambone

M.S., Psychology, focus on experimental psychology (1997)

Georgia Institute of Technology

Thesis Title: Correlation and Consistent Contrast Biases Shown in Free Sort Categorization

Advisor: Dr. Dorrit O. Billman

Davies, J., Carleton University CV

Committee: Dr. Tony J. Simon, Prof. Timothy A. Salthouse

B.A., Philosophy (1993)

State University of New York College at Oswego

EMPLOYMENT

Academic employment

2017 – Present: Full Professor

2010 – 2017: Associate Professor

2006 – 2010: Assistant Professor

Carleton University, Institute of Cognitive Science (100% appointment) and School of Computer Science (0% appointment as of July 1, 2016)

Fall 2004 – 2006

Queen's University, School of Computing

Postdoctoral Fellow

Supervisor: Prof. Janice Glasgow

Industrial employment

Summer 2011

Z2Live, Seattle, WA, USA

Consultant

Researched spending encouragement for freemium games

Summer 2000

Mitsubishi Electric Research Labs, Cambridge, MA

Research Intern supervised by Dr. Charles Rich

Designed a tutorial extension to the COLLAGEN collaborative agent software

CURRENT RESEARCH INTERESTS

My current research focuses on regularities in human imagination. I approach cognitive science through artificial intelligence: I create computer models of visualization. My goal is to create a computer program that imagines visual scenes the same way people do, with the same content in the same places.

PUBLICATIONS

(Note on publications: in computer science, my primary discipline, the main venue for publication is the peer-reviewed conference proceedings paper, and it is common for the head of the laboratory to be last author.)

Books

Articles in The Conversation

The Conversation is a website and news site run by academics. Academics pitch articles. They are accepted they are edited by another academic. So they are classified as popular scholarship writing that is only partially peer-reviewed. The articles are published under a creative commons license, and as such other news media can pick up the articles free of charge. I list some of the biggest pick-ups for each article here.

AWARDS

Favourite Faculty Award (2018) – Presented by the Carleton University Department of Housing and Resident Life.

Carleton University Provost's Fellowship in Teaching Award (2015) – This award recognizes faculty and contract instructors dedicated to sustained excellence in teaching, scholarship of teaching and continual development of teaching. There are three awards presented annually in the amount of $2,500 each.

Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences Research Achievement Award (2015)

Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences Teaching Innovation Award (2014) – This award recognizes instructional excellence in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. A maximum of three awards are presented annually. Each award winner receives an honorarium of $1,000 and a certificate of recognition.

Excellence in Teaching with Technology Award (2012) - Established by Carleton University's Teaching and Learning Services, this award is awarded to faculty members who thoughtfully and meaningfully incorporate educational technology into their teaching and learning practices. Two awards of $750 each are presented annually.

Best Reviewer Award. The ACM Conference on Creativity & Cognition, 2011.
